Important Developments in Mine Properties

Two-Mile Rock Tunnel and New Wash House and Lamp House Among Improvements

Important developments and improvements indicating faith in the coal industry in Coleman by the management include the boring of a rock tunnel involving a heavy expenditure and the building of a new wash-house and lamp-house, to replace the present accommodation for the miners, which with increased employment is proving inadequate.

The rock tunnel is an important piece of work which has an important bearing on the future of Coleman. It will make accessible virgin coal lands south of York Creek, and provide direct haulage to the present tipple. Had this tunnel not been bored, there was grave danger of the haulage being diverted to a point some distance from town, which would have had a serious effect on property values and business generally.

A more complete report will be published in a later issue concerning the important development work now underway.

Remanded for Sentence

Pleading guilty to obtaining $25 from Joe Michalsky at Coleman, Dave C. Guerin was remanded for sentence in custody by Magistrate Hamilton to September 19. Guerin told Michalsky that he had a contract for erecting a telephone line from Macleod to Fernie and needed a man to drive the cable truck. Offering to give Michalsky the job, Guerin told him it would be necessary for him to put up a bond in cash for $25, which Michalsky did. Guerin also pleaded guilty to stealing a car from Harold Jones of Coleman and was remanded for sentence to September 19.—Lethbridge Herald.

Collided With Motor Cycle

George Rayman was injured while riding a motorcycle sidecar, on Aug. 22, Frank Matkarak being the driver, was run into by a car driven by Tony Vrbu. The latter was fined $37.50 for reckless driving and his license cancelled for three months. The accident occurred between Coleman and Crow's Nest. Rayman suffered a fractured hip, necessitating nearly a month in hospital.

John Pratt was a business visitor in Calgary this week.

"The BRIDE of FRANKENSTEIN"

LONG DISTANCE AD. RESULTS

The Cowichen Leader, published weekly at Dunsmuir, Vancouver Island, recently experienced a unique situation in long-distance advertising. It appears that a subscriber in Scotland desired to assist a friend at Duncan by way of sending provisions with his greetings.

Pursuing the columns of the Leader, his eyes scanned the advertisement of a leading grocer. He made out a list of provisions he wished his friend to have, enclosed the cash to cover the order and mailed it to the advertising grocer. Another instance which proves that advertising pays.—Dramheller Mail.

J. L. Parker, Mining Engineer, Died in Vancouver

Was Connected with Many Mining Ventures in British Columbia—Latterly at Ymir.

The death of J. L. Parker, pioneer mining engineer of British Columbia, which occurred at the Vancouver General Hospital on Tuesday, September 18, came as sad news to his many friends, particularly as he was around the downtown streets, apparently in good health, up till two or three days before he passed away.

Forty years ago he operated the North Star mine, near Kimberley, for the Mackenzie-Mann interests and since that time had been prominently connected with mining development in the Kootenays.

In the heyday of Phoenix camp he was in charge of Brooklyn-Stem-winder mine, later sold to Dominion Copper Company.

In the closing days of the last century he took a leading part in preparation of data presented to the Dominion Government and which resulted in provision of bounties for both lead and zinc, a step which restored the interior lead-zinc silver areas to prosperity.

His last major venture was as mine manager for Trites Gold Mining Co., controlled by A. B. Trites, in charge of operations at the Two Star mine, Ymir district, which he brought to the attention of Mr. Trites and in which he held considerable interest at the time of his death.

Few men of his profession knew the interior districts as well and his duties had also taken him to practically every other section of the province and many parts of the United States.

Some years ago he purchased a farm in Alberta, but, though still retaining it, he returned to active mining three or four years ago. He was 73 years of age. He leaves a widow, who was in Alberta at the time he passed away.—Vancouver Province.

Distance Too Long For League Games Edmonton-Calgary

Coleman Will Again Play in the Crow Intermediate League Series—League Meeting Shortly

A meeting of the Alberta senior hockey teams was held at Calgary on Sunday, where a discussion took place on the possibility of promoting a league to include teams from Edmonton, Calgary, Drumheller and Olds. Coleman is reported as having made official application to enter this league, but according to president Frank Creegan this is not true.

Bill Bell, who is visiting in Calgary, was asked to look the situation over and, if he saw fit, to enter Coleman in the league. The meeting, however, was a failure in promoting the league as Edmonton refused to join, and with a distance of 180 miles separating Coleman from Calgary, it was thought inadvisable to allow Coleman to enter. The Southern Alberta senior league will operate the same as last season, with Calgary, Drumheller and Olds competing with each other. Coleman will have to be content in being a member of the Crow league, in which it is expected Lethbridge and Medicine Hat will again be members.

Annual Musical Festival Dates October 24-25-26

Two Trophies Added for Competition by Mr. W. G. Moffatt for School Chorus.

A meeting of the finance and executive committee of the Crow's Nest Pass Musical Festival was held in the Grand Hill Hotel on Tuesday, September 10, at eight o'clock. After the routine business the preparations for the forthcoming festival were discussed. A vote of appreciation was heartily expressed for two new cups that Mr. W. G. Moffatt had given for classes of school chorus and boys' choirs. This brings the number of cups and trophies to eighteen. It was decided to present the certificates won each day at the close of the evening's performance of the same day. There will be 87 classes in all and many entries from towns in the district west and east have written in already. Anyone desiring a syllabus or information will please write the secretary at once. The Rhythm Bands (new class) and action songs by the little children will be among the well-loved classes for little folk.

The Churches

ST. ALBAN'S CHURCH NOTES
St. Alban's Church—Next Sunday, the 14th after Trinity, services as follows: 11.15 a.m., morning prayer and address; 12.30 p.m., Sunday school.—Rev. A. S. Partington, Vicar.

ST. PAUL'S UNITED CHURCH
Sunday, September 22, is Rally Day throughout the Dominion. It is the time when parents and children gather to begin the year's work in the Master's kingdom. An inspiring service will be held at 11 a.m., in which the Sunday school children will take a leading part. Two good stories will be told by students of the Sunday school and singing with a short address by the minister will provide a helpful service. The special offering will be for the Maintenance and Missionary fund.

In the evening the sermon subject will be "The Royal Marriage Feast." A suitable solo will be rendered, and a welcome will be extended to all.—Rev. Roy Taylor, B.A., B.D.

Bill Donaldson Passes On

W. M. (Bill) Donaldson, well-known tailor of earlier days in Coleman, age 47, died in Creston hospital Monday afternoon. His home was in Scotland, and his genial nature and familiarity with Scottish lore endeared him to the hearts of many throughout the Pass. He leaves a wife and two children. He was a business first in Coleman, later at Kimberley and returned to Coleman for a year or two in 1930, moving to Creston from there.

What if you don't understand another thoroughly! Don't your own actions occasionally surprise you?

SIDEWALK IMPROVEMENT

Graded and surfaced sidewalks recently constructed from the east end of Second street to the rock bluff are a decided improvement, both for walking and appearance, and create a desire to see other streets similarly treated. Mayor Pattinson stated that this work will be continued as funds permit, an announcement which will be greeted with approval by the resident ratepayers.

There are times when if you don't speak the place nature made for the purpose you not only make him harder for you and society to manage later but you also disappoint his Creator who must have some interest in the pup's best development.

Councillor Plante's Parents Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

Came to Canada from United States 37 Years Ago—Now Living at Gleichen.

Married in 1885, in the United States, Mr. and Mrs. T. Plante will on October 19 celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary, when it is expected many members of the family will gather to honor them.

It is expected Mr. Plante and a party of friends from Coleman will journey to Gleichen to greet them on this noteworthy occasion. There are the following members of the family living:

John Plante and Miss Clara Plante, living at Gleichen with their parents; Joe at Coleman; Mrs. Arthur Seal, wife of the manager of the Bank of Italy, Oakland, Cal.; Charlie Plante (Vince) living in Seattle; Frank, teaching school at Strathmore, and Tom, farming in Peace River district.

Michael Hennessey, who lives in retirement at Crow's Nest Lake, enjoys fishing occasionally. Last week he brought in a fine rainbow trout weighing 26 ounces. Very few fish have been caught this season in the lake, but "Mickey" is a very persistent fellow, and his efforts were at last rewarded. He presented the fish to a friend in town.

HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR

Mayor Pattinson has heretofore been too modest to have his picture in the paper, but The Journal stole a march on him and here he is. Coming from England to Frank 22 years ago, he was in charge of the time manufacturing plant there. In 1922 he established himself in the hardware business in Coleman, which by prompt service and square dealing has steadily increased in volume. He was councillor for some years prior to being elected mayor in 1932, and during his regime many worthwhile improvements have been made, beside substantial reductions secured on light and water service rates.

SENTENCE STIMULANTS

A rich man, still greedy; suspicious of others and fearing someone will get him one way or another, is more pitiable than a man on the town.

A man who by hard work and thrift and fair play has been able to build up a sizeable fortune, who has time to play, time to work at community projects, and promote idealism, has peace of mind and is one of the types all Canada delights to honor.

Fretting like peace of mind, is mostly a matter of mental habit. Some rich men fret. Many poor folks have peace of mind. You may not have the knack of making money, but you can acquire the ability to control your thoughts.

Camp Worker Found Hanged in Barn at Lille

Julius Tonberg Ended Life in Fit of Depression; Formerly Worked in the Kootenays.

Surmised to have been seized with a fit of depression, Julius Tonberg, age 50, was discovered on Tuesday by hunters hanging in a barn at the deserted mining town of Lille. He had been employed as a gang boss at Bellevue relief camp, but was no longer employed there.

He originally came from Sweden, and for about 30 years had worked in the Kootenays. Many years ago he was employed as a section boss at Yahk on the Spokane International. He was reported to have been a good worker, and well-liked by his companions. No known relatives reside in Canada.

The inquest was held at Blairmore court house Wednesday afternoon, Coroner J. F. Turner presiding, when a verdict of suicide was returned.

Travelled From Regina With Dislocated Shoulder

On the C.P.R. westbound train on Friday evening a man travelling to Cranbrook was suffering from a dislocated shoulder, caused when he slipped off the coach at Regina as he alighted. He did not pay much attention to the pain at the time, but it increased as he continued his journey, and the conductor wired ahead, requesting the train at Coleman to stop. The man, who was at the depot seeing his daughter off to Victoria, was not as fit as he appeared. He was given temporary relief, and continued his journey. A nurse was in attendance on him, presumably secured by the conductor to help the injured man.

To Burn Or Not To Burn

There will be few people in Western Canada, whether farmers, business men or wage earners who will quarrel with the policy which resulted in the announcement of the Canada Grain Board's establishment of a minimum price of 37½ cents for No. 1 Northern wheat Feb. 10, 1930.

Regardless of political affiliations or economic beliefs the general public in the west greeted the announcement with approval as soon as it was made and, it is to be hoped, it will be accorded general backing in the east as well.

But the extent to which this policy will ensure to the benefit of Western farmers, who are hard pressed as a result of a prolonged period of drought, followed this year by a most disappointing situation as a result of wide-spread ravage of the wheat crops by rust, will depend upon the price spreads which, at the time of writing, are expected to be announced any day.

As harvesting and threshing operations progress, the amount of damage from rust is being daily revealed as a disaster of immense proportions, and while estimates of the extent of the loss sustained by farmers in Manitoba and Saskatchewan vary from day to day, it is quite apparent that the final figures will show a loss of great magnitude.

The rust which invaded large tracts of the best wheat growing areas of the west with such devastating effect, has not only reduced yields of what earlier in the season promised to be abundant crops but it has depreciated the grades to an extent comparable with the lowered yields.

At the moment there are thousands of acres of low grade wheat standing in the field awaiting the time when the grain is sufficiently dry to ensure a good burn because it does not pay to cut it.

Before taking this drastic action to destroy a lot of grain which conceivably may be of some value at a future date, farmers would be well advised to at least wait the promised announcement of spreads prices. It is quite possible that the spreads may be set at such figures that even the lowest grade wheat can be threshed and stored on the farm without too serious loss to the grower.

The Federal government has recognized the loss sustained by farmers through drought in the past few years as a national calamity and it is surely reasonable to suppose that the loss from rust this year will be regarded in the same category and that recognition will be given to the fact when minimum prices for the lower grades are set.

No one can gainsay the statement that the blame for damage by rust cannot be laid at the farmer's door. Rust damage is just as much a national calamity as the drought loss of recent years, and this being the case, there is every reason why the national purse strings should be loosened to relieve the predicament in which such a large number of Western farmers find themselves with winter knocking at the door.

It must be remembered that the grain about to be delivered to the flames has already cost the farmer something in outlay and labor and would cost more if it were cut, threshed and hauled to the elevator.

Furthermore, the present market price is too low to cover all these costs, without taking into consideration any margin of profit for the farmer who raised the grain.

If the crop is destroyed by fire not only does the grower lose what he has already put into it in cash and labor, but it represents a loss to the country at large. It might be well worth the country's while to advance the farmer at least sufficient money to save the grain by way of a fixed minimum price, thus salvaging what has already been spent on the crop and perhaps saving what might otherwise have to be expended later in the form of relief.

Such a measure might well be regarded in the light of a partnership between the individual and the nation for the mutual benefit of both.

There is also the question of the effect on the morale of the unfortunate grower. After losing a season's crop from drought the economic necessity of burning a crop which was not very long ago so promising must have a disheartening effect on the stoutest heart. If this effect can be averted without serious financial loss to the country, it may be well worth the expenditure.

Flies Prefer Orange Color

Primrose Yellow Is Second Choice

And Carmine Third

It's this way with flies—they'd rather sit on an orange than a cucumber, if the choice depends on color. Such was the deduction announced at the University of California recently as a result of scientific observation of color preferences of multitudes of flies. A huge checker-board with eleven-inch squares in various colors was hung up in a dairy barn of the university's college of agriculture. The flies were invited to come and make themselves at home. For three months this went on while Lester J. Berry, graduate student in charge of the experiment, and his aides kept watch. The tabulated results announced by Berry follow: Not less than 10,572 flies parked on the orange square while only 2,067 sought out the green. Primrose yellow drew 6,541; carmine, 4,415; light blue, 3,450; and white, 2,360. More esthetic flies went after coral red and pink.

A New Racket

If you get a letter telling you a relative has died and asking $30 be forwarded to cover cost of a certified copy of the supposedly dead person's will, the chances are good that the Hamilton, Ont., advises the recipient not to answer it. They explained it is the latest swindle racket operated from Montreal.

Would Increase Efficiency

Scientific Investigators Recommend

Five Light Meals A Day

When you eat a meal, what is the effect on your work? Scientific investigators have repeatedly investigated, and repeatedly answered that the effect is bad. But their studies have generally been based on the assumption that the meal is about one-third of your daily diet, since you eat three meals a day. Now Howard W. Haggard and Leon A. Greenberg, in a book, "Diet and Efficiency," report that the best schedule is five a day, all comparatively light, and that after a light meal in mid-morning or mid-afternoon your efficiency is increased 10 per cent.

This conclusion refutes the older American tradition, which had its basis in farm life. But it is in accord with the habit of many office-workers, and it corroborates the advertising appeals of several candies and soft drinks.—Business Week.

Civil Service Betterment

Given the full co-operation of civil service organizations and the civil service generally, Charles H. Bland, chairman of the civil service commission at Ottawa, expressed confidence that the betterment of conditions of government employees would come in the future.

A Good Suggestion

Safety Campaign

Automobile Fatalities On Roads In

British Isles
Bad as the slaughter on the roads continues to be, we do not think there is any ground for the gloomy view that the safety campaign is more or less played out. It takes a long time to build up the habit of self-protection amid the dangers of the road, says the London Daily Herald.

The fact that fatalities and injuries are below those of last year is pretty convincing proof that safety habits are gaining ground, and there is no good reason whatever for believing the improvement has ceased. Indeed, the ministry of transport's analysis of accidents by age-groups indicates once again where education and propaganda should be directed with special energy. Only one-sixth of the killed were 15 to 24. One-third were over 55.

One half—a tragic figure—were under 15. It is clearly the young and the old who are in the greatest danger, and upon them should be concentrated the warnings and instructions of the campaign.

Early establishment of a legislative council in Palestine is considered so certain that Arab leaders are merely awaiting a British "Order in Council" establishing the parliament before disclosing their position. Bomb Shelter De Luxe

City Of Paris Making Provision For

Air Raids

Thirty feet under the ground in the Avenue Foch, one of the most fashionable residential streets in Paris, a model concrete shelter has been constructed for use in the event of air raids. The shelter consists of several rooms equipped with all conveniences, including apparatus for detecting the presence of poison gas outside. It will serve as the model for many more which are to be built by the city of Paris. It is built under a mansion. Its roof is a block of concrete six feet thick. Above this is 10 feet of earth then a one-foot thick block of concrete, and finally another layer of earth. Two stairways lead to the shelter, and at the foot of each is a steel and concrete door weighing a ton. There are special rooms for giving first aid to injured persons, machine rooms for light and ventilation purposes and storerooms. Although it is connected with the city's regular light supply, the shelter is equipped with generators and batteries for providing its own light if necessary.

China Has New Tax

After Next May These Who Cannot

Read Will Be Fined

China has announced that after May 1, 1930, anyone in Nanking between the ages of six and fifty who cannot read will be fined. Appalled at the ignorance of the people of the capital, the Chinese authorities have issued a primer of 1000 characters and ordered students to teach the ignorant from it or give up hope of graduation. As half the population of the city cannot read, the students will be kept busy until the new law goes into effect. The police will be the official examiners, and will stop anyone they wish who if he fails to read the primer, will have to pay the equivalent of half a cent on the spot. The penalty is called the Ignorant People's Tax.

Discovery About Artist

Michelangelo Had Hundreds Of Con-

cealed Faces In His Paintings

A discovery that hundreds of concealed faces look down from Michelangelo's paintings in the Sistine and Pauline Chapels of the Vatican has been made by a Rome priest and art critic, Father Giuseppe Parroni. It was in this way, Father Parroni says, that Michelangelo pilloried his enemies or immortalized his friends. Cardinals and some of the great men of the papal court figured among Michelangelo's enemies. Father Parroni mounted a tall scaffold and took minute photographs to complete his discovery.

Jelly-Fish Kills Man

Sting Of Giant Jelly Proved Fatal

To Italian

A sting by a giant jelly-fish has resulted in the death of Salvatore Canarella, an Italian cane farmer near Brisbane. He was bathing at Coogarra Beach when he suddenly cried out loudly for help. His companions rushed out and pulled him ashore. He was given artificial respiration and restoratives but in vain, and he died on his way to the hospital. Tentacle marks were found on his body and it was at first thought that he had been attacked by an octopus. Later, however, it was found that he had been paralysed by a giant "Portuguese Man of War," a type of jelly-fish that is found along the Queensland coast. These jelly-fish often have tentacles up to 12 feet long, and their sting is capable of causing temporary paralysis.

They had been discovered among Peary's effects and forwarded by the admiral's daughter, Mrs. Edwin Stafford, of Washington, D.C.

Symbolizing the holding of land by the tenure of the horn, or corse, the Pusey Horn, a remarkable relic of King Canute was sold recently in London for $8,500. It was a heirloom of the Pusey family. In 1865 there was a dispute in the courts for the possession of the Pusey Horn. It was produced and identified as the one by which Canute conveyed the manor of Pusey (Berks) 700 years before. The horn was the alarm to be given on the arrival of the King's enemies. It will go into a private collection of antiques.

Bennett Says No Rail Amalgamation Without A Mandate

Toronto.—Amalgamation of Canada's railway systems, whether under private or public ownership, will never come during a Conservative regime unless the people give "a clear and definite mandate," Prime Minister Bennett declared here Saturday.

His government's program provided for a complete investigation into the whole transportation problem in Canada, to be carried out by the economic council. If the report of that investigation recommended amalgamation the question would be submitted to the people.

Delivering the fourth and last of the broadcast addresses with which he initiated his general election campaign, Mr. Bennett announced the intention of his government to obtain reduction in the farmers' costs of production to the level of the same costs in the United States. He would also seek to strengthen the bonds of confederation by improving civil aviation, carrying out national broadcasting plans, establishment of a national fuel and hydro-electric policy, and to work generally for a high uniform standard of living.

For the first time since the campaign opened Mr. Bennett discussed the new reconstruction party headed by Hon. H. H. Stevens, his former minister of trade and commerce. As between the Reconstruction and Conservative parties "the difference in objectives is less than in the means proposed to attain them," Mr. Bennett said. "The national objectives cannot be attained by arousing class prejudice, or by repudiation and destruction."

The Co-operative Commonwealth Federation was described as standing for socialism which meant confiscation of the subject's possessions and his freedom of thought and action. But Mr. Bennett thought the present C.C.F. movement harmless because he believed its leaders to be "good Canadians who are trying to get rid of the depression."

Again scoring Liberal free trade arguments, Mr. Bennett quoted figures to show that while in 1929 Canada had 3.71 per cent. of world export business, this had increased to 3.99 per cent. in 1934. Liberal free trade policies, he said, "would turn Canada into a vast unemployed camp."

May Have Private Army

Vienna.—The constituent congress of the new Zionist organization has voted to establish an armed "Jewish legion"—an international army—to combat oppression of Jewish people throughout the world. Several delegates insisted "private armies" to serve special needs are the fashion in Europe, and "the Jews need a defence force."

Starts On Return Trip

Ottawa.—Canadian Arctic outposts may now settle down to a period of easy isolation from the world except for the wireless messages which trickle through over the ice-bound spaces. The Arctic supply ship Nascopie having completed its annual visitation of the outposts, is now southward bound on the return trip.

Secretary Hull Makes A New Appeal For Peace Maintenance

Washington.—A new appeal to Italy and Ethiopia not to go to war in Africa was made by Secretary Hull.

In a comprehensive statement emphasizing the peaceful ideals of the United States and reviewing the United States attitude in the Italo-Ethiopian crisis, Hull called on all signatories of the Kellogg-Brand peace pact to observe their pledge to maintain world peace.

State department officials hastened to add that Hull was not formally invoking the Kellogg pact, but was calling on Italy and Ethiopia as well as other nations interested in achieving a peaceful settlement of the dispute, to make a further effort to avert bloodshed.

Geneva.—Great Britain's foreign secretary pleaded with Italy "in the words of a real friend" for a peace "that will do justice alike to Ethiopia's national rights and to Italy's claims for expansion."

Bound For Churchill

British Freighter Is Steering For Hudson Bay

Boston.—The British freighter Alma Dawson steamed toward Hudson Bay with the possibility of being ice-bound long before winter makes its official bow along the Atlantic seaboard.

The vessel unloaded her cargo of Russian coal and left with her holds empty for Port Churchill, on the western side of Hudson Bay, to take on a cargo of grain for a European port.

Port Churchill, 3,500 miles from Boston, is a run of at least 15 days for the 5,000-ton steamer, shipping agent Irving Hall said. Hall said cold weather sets in near Port Churchill about the middle of September.

Campbell May Race Wood

Battle Between Speed Kings For Harmsworth Trophy Hinted

Windsor, Ont.—Speed kings in their own spheres, Sir Malcolm Campbell and Gar Wood may meet in 1936 in a battle for the Harmsworth trophy, emblematic of motorboat supremacy, the Windsor Daily Star, in a news story, said.

Prominent Detroit sports officials, said the Star, attach special significance to the British motorist's visit to the Michigan metropolis, intimating there is just a possibility he may be obtaining first-hand knowledge of water conditions on the Detroit river and Lake St. Clair where Gar Wood has defended his honors during recent years.

Manitoba Air Mail

Huge Quantities Of Mail Carried In Winnipeg Postal District

Winnipeg.—Close to a quarter of a million pounds of mail were carried by aircraft in the Winnipeg postal district since Dec. 10, 1934, when regular air mail service to the mining districts of Manitoba and western Ontario was inaugurated, it was announced by W. P. Lough, director of postal services, who said that the heaviest route during the period since Dec. 10 was the Winnipeg-Central Manitoba route, with 81,389 pounds. Manitoba's three routes accounted for a total of 131,416 pounds, and Ontario's five for 109,222 pounds. The contractors are Canadian Airways.

German Loan Falls

Negotiations For Loan From British Interests Have Collapsed

London.—German attempts to obtain a large loan from British interests have failed, it was authoritative-ly learned here.

The reich sought between £12,000,000 and £15,000,000 (approximately $58,500,000 and $73,000,000), it was said in reliable financial circles. A bank known in the city for its German connections tried to obtain the loan for the Hitler government, but negotiations collapsed.

Strengthen Malta Garrison

Britain Sending More Troops To Strengthen Post In Mediterranean

London.—Great Britain is sending additional troops to reinforce its garrisons at Malta, strategic post in the Mediterranean, it was learned from a high source.

It was confirmed in informed quarters the action was taken "in view of the international situation," inasmuch as it will nearly double the regular Malta force of 3,000 men. Rumors again circulated the army reserves have been called up, and there were officially denied.

Three battalions stationed at Caterick, England, are being sent to the tiny island which already has become the focus point of Britain's Mediterranean defence plans.

A British battalion normally is composed of four companies of 250 men each. The units ordered to embark are the Lincolnshire Regiment, the South Wales Borderers and the King's Own Scottish Borderers.

The troop movement pointed out the Malta infantry garrison has been undermanned since 1929, when troops were sent from Malta to Palestine. Authorized establishment of the regular army for Malta is given for 1934 as 3,276 men.

Troops understood to number more than 1,200 arrived at Malta recently from England. If the three battalions ordered to sail go out in full strength, the island will be garrisoned by more than the so-called "authorized establishment."

A Reuters' despatch from Cairo said the council of ministers approved credit of £40,000 (about $200,000) for purchase in Britain of new aeroplanes for the Egyptian army air force.

Ethiopian Women May Fight

Emperor Accepts Offer Of Legion To Go To Front

Addis Ababa.—Emperor Haile Selassie has accepted the offer of a women's legion to go to the front and fight for Ethiopia in the event of hostilities with Italy.

The women, part of an organization called "For Love of Country," with a membership of several thousands and branches throughout the country, were dressed in natty uniforms—red capes, khaki breeches, leather puttees. They were armed with automatic pistols and medieval sabres.

The head of the African amazons' organization is Madame Wayzaro Abbebat Charokee, a wealthy home owner, who abandoned her home, land and riches to defend Ethiopia. She is 34 years old.

May Appear In Movies

Dionne Quintuplets May Make Film Appearance

Hollywood.—Executives at Paramount studios said negotiations to put the Dionne quintuplets in the movies "are practically complete." They are so near to a successful conclusion, it was stated, that two complete camera crews have been assembled and are ready to fly to Canada to begin work.

The famous sisters have been sought for a sequence in the Harold Lloyd comedy, "The Milky Way," story of a milk man. Steps to obtain permission from the Ontario government for their film appearance began more than a month ago.

Wheat Crop Estimate

Yield For Three Prairie Provinces Placed At 272,000,000 Bushels

Ottawa.—Canada's wheat production for this year is estimated at 290,541,000 bushels, comprising 277,274,000 bushels of spring wheat and 13,267,000 of fall wheat. The estimate was announced by the Dominion bureau of statistics. The crop for the prairie provinces was estimated at 272,000,000.

The prairie crop includes 16,000,000 bushels of durum wheat and about 60,000,000 bushels of common wheat, so shrunken by rust or frost as to be unfit for milling.

The total wheat crop for the prairies in 1934 was 265,500,000 bushels. This year's crop is therefore 8,000,000 above that of last year. The total wheat crop for all Canada last year was 275,849,000 bushels, 14,692,000 less than this year's crop.

For the three prairie provinces the preliminary estimates of total production in 1935, compared with 1934 in brackets are, in bushels: Wheat, 273,000,000 (263,800,000); oats, 296,000 (272,040,000); barley, 73,036,000 (44,742,000); rye, 12,048,000 (4,381,000); flaxseed, 1,530,000 (327,000).

Mountain Climbers Have Narrow Escape

Hung Over Cliff Edge To Avoid Avalanche Of Rocks

Tiflis, Russia.—Three mountain climbers saved themselves from an avalanche of stones by hanging over the edge of a cliff for 11 hours.

When the avalanche started, the three men tied themselves by ropes to a bit of solid rock and lowered themselves over the sides of the ledge. Eleven hours later, when the rocks had ceased popping out over them, the trio climbed back to safety. The interlopers were ascending Mount Nahar, 12,000 feet high.

No More Hazing

Saskatoon.—"Hazing" is a thing of the past in initiating freshmen into the University of Saskatchewan here, after incidents last term which resulted in the banning of over-enthusiastic welcomes. This year, new students are being treated to woeier roasts.

BLOWOUT AT 250 MILES PER HOUR

Britain Sounding Out Powers To Assist Peace Move

Nazi Congress

Chancellor Hitler Receives Ovation At Nuremberg

Nuremberg.—Clanging bells and the wild cheers of a tremendous crowd greeted Chancellor Hitler as he arrived here by airplane to open the third national-wide Nazi congress since establishment of the third reich. He was accompanied by Rudolf Hess, his deputy in the Nazi party.

Received by the burgomaster of this picturesque old city, Chancellor accepted the gift of a reproduction of Charlemagne's sword, emblematic of the glories of the Germanic empire which collapsed in 1796.

The reichsfuehrer voiced his satisfaction at the new heights reached by the wermach, which he characterized as the symbol of Germany's regained strength and freedom.

Bernardo Attolico, new Italian ambassador at Berlin, was the only foreign diplomat to accept an invitation to attend the congress. All other diplomats stationed in Germany declined the invitation. Unofficial reports said they took the view that the party and the reich are separate entities, and that the congress was a purely domestic institution.

Winter Feeding Of Cattle

Abundance Of Feed In Most Parts Of Saskatchewan

Saskatoon, Sask.—"Renewed interest in the winter feeding of cattle is inevitable," J. D. Guild, agricultural agent of the Canadian National Railways for Saskatchewan, says. Excellent returns secured by the few venturesome stockmen last year and an abundance of feed in most parts of the province, make such interest certain.

Feeder cattle are likely to be considerably higher in price this fall as some stock already has been contracted to the United States at prices from $3.50 to $3.75, Mr. Guild observed. The spread between buying and selling price was not likely to be as wide as last year, but in previous years narrower margins had meant profits to efficient feeders.

Would Restore Monarchy

Plea Is Made For A New Regime In Greece

Athens.—Premier Panayotis Tzaidaris, head of the Greek republican government, issued a proclamation, urging the people to vote for the restoration of the monarchy.

The proclamation came after a night which saw tension between monarchists and republicans break into an open fight outside the doors of the cabinet chambers, with the bayoneting of two republican leaders by monarchist guards.

After deploping the night's events, Premier Tzaidaris' proclamation asked for calm and order, concluding: "I consider democratic royalty as the natural regime for Greece and ask the people to vote for it in the impending plebiscite."

London.—Britain has been sounding out the United States and other powers not in the League of Nations in an effort to assure their co-operation if the league council votes sanctions against Italy, in case of Italian aggression against Ethiopia, informed circles said here.

The government's immediate line of action in the Italo-Ethiopian dispute is intended to unite the members of the council in a move for economic and financial sanctions against Italy without giving any reason for going to war with them.

Already a number of states, including China and several central European and Latin-American countries, have agreed to support the British, and it was assumed in view of Premier Laval's speech that France also was solidly with Great Britain. Diplomatic circles called attention to the fact the league voted in 1921 to allow each member nation to maintain full freedom of action in applying or withholding sanctions, basing its decision on its particular military and economic situation.

France, it was believed, would take advantage of this ruling to adopt a less rigorous policy than Britain if it were found necessary to apply sanctions.

Sanctions, it was said, would have to take the form of an embargo on military supplies to Italy. Importation of Italian merchandise into Britain also would be forbidden, it is believed. These measures could not be considered an act of war, since the same steps were taken by Great Britain against the Soviet Union at the time of the Vickers trial.

A war, if it broke out, would have to be short, under such conditions, it was said, because of Italy's lack of ready cash to obtain such supplies as were not banned entirely.

Other means of cutting short the war, if it begins, are also under consideration. It is in that connection that the proposal for a conference of the French and British premiers with Premier Mussolini in northern Italy originated.

Whatever plan is adopted, it is certain that the defence ministries are considering all eventualities, and their heads are in daily contact with Prime Minister Baldwin.

Probe Coal Industry

Investigation To Get Under Way In Alberta Soon

Edmonton.—Investigation into Alberta's coal industry will get under way almost immediately, with Sir Montague Barlow sitting as a one-man commission, instead of a three-man commission proposed by the old U.F.A. government, acting Premier Manning announced following a conference between Sir Montague and Hon. C. C. Ross, minister of lands and mines. Dates and places of sitting will be announced shortly.

The investigation will proceed as otherwise scheduled and be carried on until completed. All phases of the coal industry will be considered in an effort to improve production, marketing and consumption.

Oppose The Use Of Military And Naval Sanctions Against Italy

Geneva.—Economic and financial sanctions will be voted against Italy by the council of the League of Nations, Havas learned on the highest authority, should Mussolini reject a compromise now being worked out by the five-power committee and resort to war in defiance of the covenant.

France has definitely decided to support the application of article 16 of the covenant, authorizing sanctions, if it is invoked in case of aggression, as it will be. Enough small powers are behind France and Great Britain, which has consistently advocated such action in the last resort, to assure its victory.

It will take an unanimous vote of the league council to invoke sanctions, apart from the disputants themselves.

Delegates from the Netherlands, Belgium and Sweden, the latter understood to be speaking for the whole Scandinavian bloc, before the assembly all expressed themselves firmly in favor of the British stand that the covenant must be upheld and all members share the responsibility of maintaining peace.

England has been won over to French opposition to use of military and naval sanctions, and might easily provoke a European war. She has definitely decided not to use her navy to close the Suez canal against Italian military traffic.

Unanimous support of the compromise to be proposed by the consultation committee may not be necessary, it was learned. If it is approved by a majority of the council, it will be presented to Italy and Ethiopia. Acceptance by the latter country is taken for granted. If Italy refuses, and begins aggressive action in East Africa, the council will be called into special session to vote sanctions.

It is understood the agreement on economic and financial sanctions and abandonment of military and naval sanctions was reached in conversations between Pierre Laval, French premier and foreign minister, and Sir Samuel Hoare, British foreign secretary.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

GLORIOUS SEPTEMBER, terminating summer and ushering the season termed "Fall" in Canada, or autumn, sees the majority of people settled down to their usual avocations after the midsummer holiday period. Many in Coleman were enabled this year to take a holiday owing to increased employment, and a trip to the coast cities proved a beneficial change for quite a large number.

I used to think I knew it all. Now I know I am only right about 99 per cent of the time. During the next fifty or one hundred years I expect to come down to earth enough to be almost human.

EXCURSION RATES on the railroad are a boon to farmers and workmen. Cent-a-mile rates are a very strong inducement to take a holiday, and the magnificent scenery of the Rockies on the route of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of the most inspiring sights in the world. Well might the slogan be heeded: "See Canada First."

It isn't your firm—it's the infirm and unfirm your work for it.

THE TOWN resumes its usual activity when the school children assemble after their two months holidays. Business picks up, regular habits of daily life supersede the lazy midsummer days, and the tempo of life accelerates in anticipation of the next holiday season, Christmas and New Year. There is almost as much enjoyment in anticipation as in realization, for it usually means planning and sacrificing in order to enjoy a holiday. Even if you come back "broke" the change and the interesting experiences, besides the various types you meet, are well worth while.

"A pessimist is one who of two evils chooses both." Life always offers more than one choice. One must be less evil than the other and only needs a good man to make its evil less and less. And in the process the man becomes more and more.

VISITORS to British Columbia are impressed with the wealth of its natural resources and the productivity of its soil. Rich minerals, coal, lumber and its fisheries, added to which are its fertile valleys wherein are grown fruit, hops, tobacco, and the famous dairy farms of the lower Fraser Valley, besides the paper industry at Ocean Falls and Powell River, combine to make it attractive in the eyes of prairie dwellers who depend largely on wheat alone for their income. Its mild climate is an added attraction to those whose circumstances compel them to live east of the Rockies. Vancouver will vie with Montreal as a great seaport and the province which once was described as a sea of unproductive mountains will probably in time become the wealthiest of the nine provinces of the Dominion. In the generation of electricity by water power it ranks high in comparison with Ontario and Quebec.

A man who once was up but now is down should, when remembering, exercise his longer memory and recall how once he was lower than he now is and yet did climb.

THE AIR is again charged with election addresses, but not with as much tenseness as in the provincial campaign of last month. At least five parties will solicit votes—C.C.F., Reconstructionists, Liberals, Conservatives, Social Creditors. Macleod constituency, of which Coleman is a part, will have Liberal, Conservative, C.C.F. and Social Credit candidates. Among them, George G. Coote is the most widely known. Since 1921 he has represented the constituency as a U.F.A. candidate, and has given much study towards monetary reform. In fact it was a surprise to many that the Social Credit party entered a candidate against him, as he has been advocating for years reforms which are parallel with the policies advocated by Social Creditors, and on a much saner basis. Ingratitude is always a penalty of public service.

Ymir, an old gold mining town south of Nelson, has taken a new lease of life with the present price of gold. At one time it boasted thirteen hotels and boarding houses. Several have re-opened with the increased activity. Yankee Girl mine installed a new mill recently, and other properties which are very active are Ymir Consolidated and the Goodenough mines. The town has electric light and water service, and is connected with Nelson and Spokane by the Great Northern Railway.

During a visit to Penttont, H. T. Halliwell had a chat with Mr. McIntyre, Coleman's first postmaster, who left here in 1909 and has since been postmaster at that place. He inquired after several of the early-time residents of those days, and asked to be remembered to them. Harry Griesbach, former customs officer at Blairmore, is now filling a similar position at Penttont, and appears to be enjoying life there.

A BALANCED MIND AND STEADY NERVES

We never know when life is unexpectedly going to put us on the spot. When it does we may be glad that we picked a pair of grandpater's with steady nerves. Moreover we will then be glad that we have lived soberly and wisely.

Only a fine physique and a well-balanced mind could have stood the test of the ordeal through which Paul Cardoni passed on September 3rd and 4th. This young surveyor was caught on a mountain ledge which afforded standing room only. The snow and wind pelted him in an out-of-the-way part of British Columbia for a day and a night and a day. He was then rescued by means of a rope let down from 500 feet above.

The Boy Scouts motto is "Be Prepared." It is a good motto for anyone. We never know when life will put us on the spot. Only by keeping oneself physically strong, mentally awake and morally straight can one be prepared for life's emergencies.

MAJOR ACTON

Major Joseph Acton, Salvation Army officer who as a young man fresh from the training college was given his first appointment in charge of a post at Coleman, twenty years ago, will pay a visit here from Friday to Sunday. Many will remember his visit last year, and his interesting lecture on Alaska. This will be again given, and those who have not heard it are urged to attend, on Friday evening in Belleuve hall. Colored slides give added interest, and he is assisted by his able wife.

Major Acton has made it possible from his busy life to pay a visit to Coleman. He will conduct special services at the Salvation Army, September 22nd, at 11 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Retirement Income Bond

and Your Future Financial Worries are Over

Whether your income is derived from salary, wages, professional fees or business profits, there will come a time when your life work will be almost over. Will you be financially prepared?

In the course of a lifetime most men earn enough money to provide for retirement, yet relatively few accumulate sufficient to realize that ambition—usually for lack of a plan. Are you now making adequate provisions?

Financial security, and the necessary income for retirement, are guaranteed by a Confederation Life Retirement Income Bond. Ownership of one of these bonds leads to security and independence. It is a splendid form of saving for retirement, and is without life insurance features.

The Confederation Life Retirement Income Bond is a flexible savings and investment plan. You may start the plan today, but you do not have to decide now exactly when you will commence to draw the income, but by means of options, your retirement income may begin at any age you wish—50, 55, 60, 65, or 70. Thus you may leave future decisions to be made in the light of later needs, with the knowledge that you will have a definite and guaranteed income at your disposal in later life, when needed.

The Automobile World

Over Thirty-five Million Cars Are In Use

The motorist who brags of 100,000 miles has still some distance to go to cover the world's highways. In a little booklet issued by the Automobile Manufacturers' association, packed with unusual and interesting information, it is stated that there are 9,231,000 miles of highway in the world.

The United States has 3,065,254, one-third of the total. Soviet Russia is second with 1,682,109, and Japan, rather surprising in view of its small area, is third, with 524,626. Australia takes fourth place, with 458,251, and Canada is fifth with 409,124. At the other end of the scale is Gibraltar, with 15 miles of road, and French Somaliland with 25. But Gibraltar has 66 cars to each mile of road, while the United States has only 8.1 per mile, and Canada 2.7.

According to the booklet, the average life of cars is 8 1/2 years. It is said also that 95 per cent of all cars sell for less than $750 wholesale; that farmers use 26 per cent of all trucks; that there are 35,087,000 motor vehicles in the world, of which 71 per cent are in the United States; that motorists pay six times the taxes they paid 15 years ago; that in automobile deaths per 10,000 motor vehicles Canada has the second lowest standing in the world, with 9.1—second to New Zealand's 6.6—and Italy the highest at 54.5—Edmonton Journal.

Fruit Imported By Canada

Canada, the United Kingdom, France, Germany and Austria are leading world importers of fruit. Canada does not require to import apples, but the average annual import of other fruits into Canada from 1928-32 included 14,000 tons of bananas, 73,000 tons of oranges, 20,000 tons of dried grapes, 12,000 tons of lemons, 11,000 tons of grapes, and 8,000 tons of pears.

Fritz's Cigarette To Pipe

Fritz's pipe, long the symbol for things Germanic, is finally surrendering to the more modern cigarette and cigar. In 1934-35 cigarette consumption in the Reich was 36,073 millions or an increase of seven per cent over the former 12-month period. Smoking tobacco consumption declined three per cent over the same period. Cigar consumption increased 20 per cent.

Sir Edward Beatty, G.B.E., chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is shown here beside the cairn which marks at Craigellachie, B.C., the spot where Lord Strathcona, in the presence of Sir William Van Home and others of Canada's railway giants, drove the last spike completing the Canadian Pacific Railway from ocean to ocean across more than 3,000 miles of formidable country, on November 7, 1885. In the golden jubilee of the Canadian Pacific's history, Sir Edward, during his current trans-Canada tour, dropped off his special train at Craigellachie to pay his respects to the memory of the builders of his great transportation company and to receive the greetings of Craigellachie's handful of citizens.

Pictures Without Camera

First Movie Film Of This Kind Is Made In London

The first motion picture film ever to be made without a camera was shown to the public in London, Eng., under the auspices of the post office.

It consisted of colored patterns which moved in tempo with a rumba played on the sound track of the film. The patterns were applied directly to the film by hand.

The invention was made by an Australian artist, Len Lye, who sought by use of a film to avoid the mechanical difficulties encountered in providing a color accompaniment to music by means of electric lights.

The post office has ordered other films of the same nature, which will be used to advertise its services.

Ready For An Emergency

British Postmaster-General Can Phone Entire Staff At Once

Following the celebration of its tercentenary in connection with which the general post office gave an exhibition of what it could do in the way of rapid communication when it really tried—the British postmaster-general speaking by telephone to 80,000 post-office servants at once.

Thirty-five thousand miles of line was involved in the experiment. This vast network which the engineers created for the ceremony will remain available. The idea is that in any future emergency the postmaster-general wishes urgently to address a personal message to all his staff it can be done at short notice.

Household Arts

The individuality of this crocheted shirtmaker blouse doubles its charm, and when you find how easy it is to make, you'll want to go right on and crochet a plain skirt for it, too (pattern 5353). Then you'll have a two-piece ensemble to wear right through the Fall and Winter. The lacy stitch which composes the entire blouse is very easily learned by heart, and a grand one to add to your crochet repertoire. The blouse has raglan sleeves, which are so easy to fashion, while the pretty bow is made of strands of the same wool. The buttons make a smart trim, and sleeves may be either short or long.

In pattern 5426 you will find complete instructions for making the blouse shown; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. The blouse comes in size 16-18 and 38-40. Price of pattern 20c. In pattern 5353 you will find complete instructions for making the skirt shown in sizes 16-18 and 38-40; an illustration of it and of the stitches needed; material requirements. Price of pattern 20c. To obtain these patterns send 20 cents each (40 cents for both) in stamps or coin (coin preferred) to Household Arts Dept., Winnipeg Newspaper Union, 176 McDermott Ave., Winnipeg.

Tourist Attractions

What Is Worth Most To Canada. Live Or Dead Attractions? (By Jack Miner)

What is worth most to the people of Canada, live or dead attractions? The first to be considered is what is the best for the most people. Figures show that in North America less than ten per cent of the population use a gun while the other 90 per cent want to see birds and animals alive and only shoot with kodaks. The gunners take all from the 90 per cent while the 10 per cent take nothing from the shooters, but are constantly building up their sport.

While I am not talking politics, yet Canada has wisely used the unemployed to build good roads through our north country or vast natural parks and I say without hesitation that one family of our big white tailed deer bounties across the highway and possibly stepping into the range of the tourist's kodak and movie camera is worth more to more people of Canada than 25 dead deer hanging back in the woods or even hanging dead in front of our tourists and remember, the white tailed deer are no comparison to our lovely moose which the majority of hunters would shoot first. Those living sights and pictures are as good as golden wheat fields and are worth more to our rocky picturesque country. Yes, I say $100 brought into Canada by tourists is just as good as $100 worth of wheat going out of Canada. Moreover it is apt to be distributed among people who do not own land to grow wheat. Best of all, live attractions are self advertising. For illustration, tens of thousands of people go to Yellowstone Park in the United States and they spend tens of thousands of dollars and they get out of it as many pictures of the bears and other live attractions. Yet these photos and movies cause thousands more to go and spend their money; but our innocent black bear of Canada, and the company which he considers, yet he is one of the most attractive animals Canada has today, and it gives him no chance to pack of our dogs. Why, bless your life, the garbage from the hotels in a small city or town in the North, or even a lumber camp, can be placed to bait them where the public can picture them nearly every day in the summer, and they will shuffle quietly away while your truck dumps garbage for them, and their movie cameras will be busy snapping away at the big cities at our front or side door to the United States.

There is a legend of a man in Yellowstone National Park, but it was a Scotchman who gave the wild life a bad name. He was a hunter and he was to take it away from him, but bruin wouldn't stand for it and knocked him down. He was so badly hurt that he was to take it away from him, but bruin wouldn't stand for it and knocked him down. He was so badly hurt that he was to take it away from him, but bruin wouldn't stand for it and knocked him down.

These innocent black bears in Ontario are practically harmless to other game such as deer and moose. As proof of this, the Ontario government did not allow an open season on them in that province until 1900, when they were to be shot for the sake of the moose, with no open season in Ontario, the Ontario hunters like myself were to be shot for the sake of the moose.

JAMES
(A Great Christian Leader)

Golden text: Blessed is the man that endureth temptation; for when he hath been approved, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord promised to them that love him. James 1:12.

Lesson: Acts 15:1-21; James 1:1-17.

Devotional reading: Matthew 4:1-11.

Explanations and Comment

Rejoice In Suffering, verses 2-4. Greet it as pure joy, my brothers, when you undergo any sort of trial, sure that the sterling temper of your faith produces endurance; only let your endurance be a finished product, so that you may be finished and complete, with never a defect (Moffatt's translation). It is not upon his own authority that James counsels his readers to count it all joy when trials befall them, for he at once reminds them of their own experience, knowing as they did, that the testing of their faith created endurance. Trials are not a joy in themselves, but when rightly borne they are to be rejoiced in, as opportunities for practicing virtues. Recall Mt. 5:11, 12.

"This doctrine of joy in suffering which at first sight seems to be almost superhuman, is shown by experience to be less hard than the apparently more human doctrine of resignation and fortitude. The effort to be resigned, and to suffer without complaining, is not a very inspiring effort. It is to be resigned to what is, and to suffer what is, without complaint. It does not lift us out of ourselves or above our tribulations. It is a resignation, it leads rather to self-contemplation and a brooding over miseries. Between mere resignation and the joy there is all the difference that there is between mere obedience and affectionate trust. The one is submission; the other is love. It is in the long run easier to rejoice in tribulation, and to be thankful for it, than to be merely resigned and submit patiently. And therefore this hard saying is really a merciful one, for it teaches us to endure trials to the spirit that will make us feel them least."

When Temptation Comes, verses 12-17. Blessed is he who endures the trial; for when he has stood the test, he will get the crown of life which the Lord has promised to all who love him. "The mere endurance of temptations and afflictions will not win the promise of eternal life unless temptations are withstood, and afflictions endured in the right spirit. The proud self-reliance and self-repression of the Stoic have nothing meritorious about them" (Alfred Plummer).

The Manx Language

Only One That Does Not Contain Swear Words

Interest in the Manx language, which has been on the verge of extinction, is being revived by the Manx Society, a group of ardent nationalists of the Isle of Man. When the last Manx census was taken, four years ago, 529 persons could speak in Manx, but 60 per cent. of them were then over 65 years of age. A peculiarity of the Manx language is that it comes no swear words. How Manx golfers were able to relieve their feelings a few years ago, when the language was generally used by those on the island, is being asked by those against the new movement who contend that perhaps that may be why Manx has gone out of use.

Success Through Failure

It is a mistake to suppose that men succeed through success; they much often succeed through failure. By far the best knowledge of men is made up of their remembered failures in dealing with others in the affairs of life. Such failures in sensible men incite to better self-management, and greater tact and self-control, as means of avoiding them in the future.

Measuring Space

Astronomers can measure accurately distances up to 300 trillion miles, states Dr. F. J. Jordan, Pittsburgh, treasurer of the American Astronomical Society in convention at Toronto. With a fair degree of accuracy, distances up to 600 trillion miles can be measured, he added.

A sparrow flaps its wings nearly 800 times a minute.

Sunlight Is Trapped

Ingenious Device Ensures Full Benefit Of Sunlight In The Home. In a block of flats now being built in London, sunlight is being "laid on."

Not just sun-ray lamps or artificial sun-ray apparatus, but real sunshine, so harnessed that it switches itself on as soon as the sun appears, and switches on the electric light as the sun disappears.

This is the first installation in England of an ingenious device invented by a French engineer, Jacques Arbury, which puts sunlight "on tap" for domestic lighting.

The device enables every room in a house, including the darkest cellar, to be efficiently lit by the rays of the sun, even with blinds drawn across the windows, or even if there are no windows.

This is achieved by an arrangement of mirrors and lenses. Up on the roof there is a big mirror mounted on a slowly rotating axis, operated by a tiny 1-4th horse-power motor.

A mercury thermostatic device, worked by the heat of the sun, controls the motor and thus keeps the mirror moving just enough to make it follow the sun across the sky—so that it is always receiving the direct rays over its entire surface of 40 square feet.

These rays are reflected by another mirror fixed at an angle that will deflect them down a vertical shaft to the basement. At the height of the ceiling in each room are mirrors, so arranged that a number of descending rays are trapped as they reach each storey and deflected to the ceilings of the rooms surrounding the shaft.

As the rays are then finally deflected from room to room through small apertures in which mirrors are set. Should the sun go behind a cloud the mercury in the thermostat begins to fall. That action is sufficient to switch on the electric light.

To make the efficiency of this apparatus complete all the mirrors are polished automatically by an arm which operates from the main motor. This wipes each mirror over after one complete rotation of the central mirror or of the roof.

To Banish Horses

Busy London Thoroughfares To Be Closed To Horse-Drawn Traffic

London, England, is to be conspicuous five years hence because of the absence of horses from the streets, according to present plans of the ministry of transport. It is intended to inaugurate a completely mechanized system, the forerunner of which will be in operation in the near future. The busiest thoroughfares are to be closed to horse-drawn traffic shortly. While the minister of transport, Mr. Hore-Bellish, has the power to put an end to traffic by horse, he doesn't wish to do so without giving the owners fair warning.

In any event a percentage of the animals will be able to "pinch-hit" on the farm. Others can retire to meadow and pasture for well deserved rest. The occasional one may even be developed into a steeple-chaser or flat runner for the enjoyment of racing fans!

Machinery and modern invention have replaced Old Dobbin, man and horse, but we doubt that he will fade from the picture entirely for a long time yet.—Windsor Star.

Has Driven Million Miles A million miles in a car is the record of Eva Jordan, who began to drive a car when she was 52 years of age and has used 14 cars, has covered 1,000,000 miles in 12 years without an accident. She carries State patients from all parts of Iowa to the State University Hospital at Iowa City.

Alexander the Great was born in Europe, died in Asia, and was buried in Africa.

"Isn't your horse winded?" "Yes; he's a draft horse."

metal was ever discovered in the vicinity.

"What became of the people when the bubble burst?"

"Drifted away, poor souls, leaving their dead behind them—their high hopes crushed. I recall one family stopping at our house for water, and Father bringing them in to be fed and warmed. They were a pitiful sight: the young mother frail and worn by hardship, the father in ragged shirt and trousers, and an ailing baby. They promised to let us know how things went with them, but we never heard."

"Ships that pass in the night," said Matthew softly, and Luke broke in:

"But will you tell us how old Pemper-ton escaped being tarred and feathered when the hoax was discovered?"

"For the very good reason," replied Miss Columbine, "that the scamp was nowhere to be found! When the boom was at its height he disappeared, and now all that is left of the ghost city which bore his name, are those tumble-down buildings (one of which cost a woman five thousand dollars, I was told), and that small burying ground where lie the bodies of those who were too frail to survive the rigors of frontier life."

"I'd like to see that place," said Nancy, as Cousin Columbine ceased speaking.

"You shall, my dear; and we'll make an excursion out on the plains as well. They can be so beautiful, our western prairies, that I hate to think how cruel they sometimes are."

"Cruel?" Miss questioned, a little puzzled. "You mean those sudden blizzards when the grazing cattle have no shelter? Well, this winter's over, Cousin Columbine, and if you've no objection I'll start getting acquainted with the plains to-morrow. I've got a marvelous idea. Why can't I ride to Prairie Ranch with Jack and Matthew? It would be a lark."

"You're a new woman, Nance Nelson," remarked her brother, "if you regard as anything like a lark the necessity of piling out of bed along with the robins! We'll pass your tower at five a.m., young lady. Do you think you can make it?"

"Of course she'll make it," put in Matthew eagerly. "We'll get lunch at the hotel's, Nance. I'll be hilly having you along."

Thus it was settled, though on the ride home that night Cousin Columbine predicted a change of weather. Despite this prophecy the sun was shining when Nance awoke, dressed rapidly, and slipped downstairs on her toes; but as she passed the lower bedroom a call arrested her.

"That you, Nance?"

Nance opened the door.

"Did I wake you up? You were wrong about the weather, Cousin Columbine. It's a lovely morning."

"What are you wearing?"

"My knitted sport suit. I dare say I'll roast, but I won't take any wrap except my hiking sweater."

"Indeed you will!" Cousin Columbine sat up in bed, stretching a hand toward the window as if to feel the atmosphere. "There's a chill to the air, different from anything I've had this long time. Take your fur coat, Nance, or I shan't have an easy moment all day long."

"My fur coat! Why—?"

"Don't argue," snapped the old lady. "I know this country better than you do. I've seen days when it's like summer this time of year, and end with a snow storm. I'm responsible to your parents for your safety, child; and I—I command you to take that coat!"

Nancy laughed, realizing that there was no use in combating an old lady over severity.

"All right," she said good-naturedly, "the coat goes along as an extra passenger. I'll run up for it now."

"What sort of stockings have you got on?"

The question caught her at the door, and the girl turned, a bit exasperated.

"Don't let that worry you! I'm wearing sport shoes and woolen hose. I shan't freeze to death, Cousin Columbine, even if we get one of your spring blizzards."

She was surprised to note that this absurd remark was taken seriously.

"Look here, child, don't you start home in any sort of storm. Remember that. You think me foolish no doubt, but I've seen a good two feet of snow later than this, and herds of cattle frozen in the drifts out on that prairie. Close my window, Nance. I may as well get up and see what's happening."

She was on the porch when they rode away, a troubled look in her usually placid eyes that Nance recognized as the same afterward. The man who had taken his sheep-lined coat—looked up at the sky, and said at the last moment: "I sort of wish you wouldn't go, Nancy. There's something in the air this morning that I don't like."

"Now don't you worry, Miss Columbine," soothed Matthew. "If there's the least suspicion of bad weather, we'll keep her safe at Uncle Tom's until it's over."

This seemed reasonable; and as they waved good-bye a robin hopped down from a spruce tree and began his breakfast at Miss Columbine's bird box. But even this emblem of the springtime failed to cheer her.

"I ought to have set my foot down," said soberly when Aurora came down, the arrival of which she did not like this air."

The sun played hide and seek all morning, and at last retired behind a cloud and stayed there. At noon a wind sprang out of the north, rattling the shutters of the Nelson mansion with sudden fury; and ten minutes later a flurry of blinding snow had shut them in. Columbine Nelson kept going to a window and staring out. Her lunch was left almost unaltered. Twice she sat down at the telephone and then turned away, knowing that if there were anything to say Eve Adam would have called her.

The storm increased; and at half past four, after moving restlessly about the house, Miss Columbine stood so long at the front window that Aurora, who had been curious during those dragging hours, burst out: "Don't you keep fretting, Miss Columbine. It makes me nervous. Didn't Matt Adam promise they wouldn't start if it was storming?" And besides, Mark'll be with 'em on the way back, and he's real level-headed come an emergency."

"That's what I've been telling myself all day," replied Miss Columbine. "Even if they started before the storm began, Aurora, Mark would have sense enough to—There's the telephone!"

Her hand trembled as she lifted the receiver; and Aurora stood close by, head bent in an effort to catch the distant voice.

"That you, Miss Columbine? I've tried to get you all the afternoon, but our line was in trouble. Jack hasn't left, I hope. Tell him not to try to get out here to-night. Luke and his father came—"

"Jack! He's not here, Eve," broke in the old lady, her voice shaking. "Surely! The kids'll leave your brother's in such a storm!"

"Not there?" A pause, and then Eve said, trying to speak calmly: "Listen Miss Columbine. Can you hear clearly?—Tom telephoned at seven this morning for them not to come—that Mark was fast in bed with a bad throat. It was too late to stop the children anyway, so I didn't call again; and later my brother phoned again. He—he said Jack and Nancy started for home immediately after an early lunch. I told him they looked as if a storm were coming, but he said the sun was glorious out there and that—"

"Then—then Mark's not with them?" almost wailed Miss Columbine.

"No, but—Oh, don't worry yourself sick, dear Miss Columbine! There are ranches not so terribly far apart, you know; and there's a schoolhouse. Surely they would have reached the school down the valley there! But I'll try and get the ranch again by telephone and—"

It was then that the storm did something to the wires, and Columbine Nelson heard no more. But an hour later, just as the dreaded night was passing down the valley, she heard with John at the wheel, and Eve, covered with snow from head to foot beside him, fought its way into the yard and stopped before the door.

Would Reduce Accidents

If Drivers Of Cars Made Courtesy A Habit

The number and character of automobile accidents occurring lately give point to the following comment in a weekly exchange:

"Science and industry have done their part in producing the automobile. Paul de Kruif, in a recent article in the Rotarian Magazine, declares that 'hardly fifteen per cent of all accidents can be laid to automobile defects.' The culprit is the driver. Collectively, he has not yet mastered the new device, has not yet adjusted his nervous organism to its demands, and yet mastered the technique of making this invention a part of his social routine with economy of human wastage. He is, in short, not yet civilized."

The driver too often does not master the driving controls and regulations. Lacking sure knowledge of how to signal, he fails to give any intimation to the driver behind—such as putting a hand out—that he is about to do something other than proceed straight ahead. He will 'start this time' pass a car on a curve or near the crest of a hill. He will take the chance that 'the other fellow' will slow down at intersections, and himself speed on through."

"Be it to sum all, he lacks courtesy. The vital core of courtesy is consideration for other people. Courtesy is not the cloak to be exhibited upon occasion for admiration of friends; it is a way-of-doing, so regularly practiced that it best may be described as a habit."

A Remarkable Record

Seven Generations Of One Family Have Instructed The Deaf

For seven generations Miss Dea Hagen's family has been active in working for deaf people, and to-day Miss Hagen finds the urge no less strong than it was in her great-grand-uncle, who was Canada's first teacher for the deaf. She teaches in the School for Deaf at Saskatoon.

The school has 140 pupils, ranging from 5 to 13 years. They are first taught to speak, after which the whole process of thought must be changed. Miss Hagen said. Sign and lip-reading is taught, and then regular academic and vocational curriculum follows: Manual training, household science, shoe repairing and bakery business are some of the vocations in which instruction is given.

Miss Hagen explained deaf children are taught to dance in perfect time to a piano, yet they have no cue to the rhythm other than vibrations felt through the floor.

One deaf girl at the Saskatoon school learned to speak at 18, and so expressed her thoughts for the first time in her life. She graduated, Miss Hagen said with pride, and this fall is going to Gallaudet, Washington, the only college in the world for deaf people.

Scientific research is carried on at the Saskatoon school, and the latest ideas on teaching the deaf are put into practice as they are developed. In addition regular school training classes for teachers for the deaf are held, and the five teachers at the schools are all 'home trained.'

Farm Machinery Exports

Big Increase Is Shown For July Over Previous Period Last Year

Farm implements and machinery exported during July amounted in value to $1,238,983, more than double that of July 1924, when it totalled $385,794, the Dominion bureau of statistics reports.

The leading purchasers were the United States to the value of $378,005; Argentina, $335,444; British South Africa, $157,753; New Zealand, $64,840; Australia, $57,219; United Kingdom, $28,551; Denmark, $27,348; and Uruguay, $25,813.

A good-hearted man carries some of it in his pocketbook.

Little Helps For This Week

Thou caldest in trouble and I delivered thee. Psalm 117.

Be strong and of good courage, dread not nor be dismayed. 1 Chronicles. 22:13.

Thou canst calm the troubled mind. Thou its dread canst still. Teach me to be all resigned To my Father's will.

Though this patient meek resignation is to be exercised with regard to all outward things and occurrences of life, yet it chiefly respects our own inward state, the troubles and weaknesses of our own souls. And to stand in a meek resignation to God, when your own impatience and pride attack yourself, is a higher and more beneficial performance of this duty than when you stand turned to meanness and patience when attacked by the pride or wrath of other people.

Build Big Canal

Soviet Government Will Construct Two River Ports At Moscow

The Soviet government has ordered construction of two river ports at opposite ends of Moscow to accommodate the heavy river traffic anticipated with completion in 1937 of the Moscow-Volga canal.

Work was also ordered begun on construction of freight and passenger boats to total 65,000 tons.

The canal, started in 1932, will be the largest river canal in the world—79 miles long, 18 feet deep, 7 feet wide. It will have six dams, seven flood gates and five pumping stations.

The canal will complete the water route to Moscow from the Caspian sea.

Raisins Treated With Oil

Stickiness Is Removed And They Look More Attractive

Sticked raisins are sticky, making it necessary for women to shake their hands with flour in order to handle them. The seeds that were removed were also sticky, and handling them was a messy job for the technical men in charge of the process. Chemists tackled the problem, and they succeeded in making the raisins supply the solution. As a result the raisins are now being oiled, and in addition to being easier to handle because of the lack of stickiness, they present such an attractive appearance that the packers are now able to market them in transparent wrappers.

Manage New Hotel

H. W. Aslin Of Edmonton To Take Charge Of The Beasborough

H. W. Aslin, manager of the Macdonald hotel at Edmonton, one of the Canadian National Railways chain, for the past two and a half years, will move to Saskatoon, to become manager of the new Hotel Beasborough, it was announced by Joseph Van Wyck, general manager of hotels, Canadian National Railway.

Mr. Aslin joined the Canadian National as manager of the Prince Arthur at Port Arthur. He opened the Nova Scotian in Halifax and managed it for three years prior to coming to Edmonton in January, 1933.

Designs Coat Of Arms

Air minister Hermann Wilhelm Goering, noted for his fondness for uniforms, has caused a coat of arms to be designed for himself. The emblem features a red shield on which appears a mailed fist gripping an iron ring.

SYNOPSIS

Nancy Nelson is a sub-deb, a gay, irresponsible girl of nineteen, with no care beyond the choice of her costume for her coming-out party. She is a denizen of the market crash, her indulgent father loses all he had, and his family is faced with the necessity of a simpler method of living. At this juncture a letter is received from an eccentric relative in Colorado, who
